

Villa Borealis

Region: Porec Sleeps: 6 - 8

Overview

Surrounded by open countryside, this homey villa, sleeping eight guests, will give you the peace you've been looking for. Situated a short drive from the bustling town of Poreč in the north of Istria, Croatia, Villa Borealis is a rural retreat for you and your loved ones to enjoy.

Once inside the villa, make your way down an entrance hall to the open-plan living area. With marble floors underfoot, the room looks out over a large patio, pool and open Croatian countryside. In one corner, a leather corner sofa sits facing a flat-screen TV, perfect for a family movie night. On the other side of the room, a circular dining table with high-back chairs is a great place to bring the family together. The kitchen has all essentials you need for an effortless stay, plus the local supermarket is less than three kilometres away, so you can pick up all essentials for tasty home-cooked meals and snacks.

Villa Borealis features three cosy double bedrooms on the same level as the living room, each with an ensuite bathroom. All bedrooms are low-key, relaxed rooms with plenty of storage and flat-screen TVs. The sofa can also be turned into a sofa-bed, accommodating an extra two guests. The bathrooms are modern, with a walk-in shower and towels are provided.

Outside the villa, you can hear the peace of the rural setting and wake up to the sounds of the birds. A family alfresco dining table offers an alternative dining space for everyone to gather, exchanging stories of the day's adventures under the starry sky. A large outdoor pool surrounded by comfortable cushioned sunbeds to enjoy the sunny weather expected in Croatia sits in the centre of the garden. Grass verges run around the outside, ideal for children playing on a softer surface, with an outdoor lounge area for you to relax into while supervising or the perfect place for your morning coffee.

Towards the back of the grounds is a sheltered area with a second outdoor dining table seating eight guests, an outdoor grill and a drinks fridge. A low wall for privacy and security surrounds the entire garden. At the front of the property, there is plenty of parking.

Villa Borealis is close to the bustling town of Poreč, filled with history and local cuisine and surrounded by miles of beaches along the coastline. With plenty of activities in the local area and everything you need in the villa, this holiday is what you and your family deserve.

Location & Local Information

Villa Borealis is located in the Istria region in northern Croatia. Surrounded by open countryside, the whole family has space to unwind and relax to the sound of the birds.

If you want to venture into civilization, Poreč is the place to be. Poreč is a bustling town filled with charm, history and local hospitality. The narrow streets are teeming with history dating back to Roman Empire. The town's most famous landmark is the UNESCO World Heritage Site, Euphrasian Basilica, which dates back to the sixth century. Here, you will see golden mosaics and unique architecture that has been beautifully preserved. The main street in Poreč, the Decumanus, which runs through the centre of the old town, was once the main road during the Roman times, letting you walk in the path of the Roman Empire. Cafes and restaurants line the streets, allowing you to sample the local cuisine.

There are several beaches in proximity to Villa Borealis. Poreč's main beach is a pebbled shoreline with direct access to the cooling waves of the Adriatic Sea. Here, you can enjoy swimming, or if you're feeling more adventurous, try one of the many water sports. Other beaches nearby include Parentino Beach, north of the Poreč's centre, which is close to a sandy section of coastline, great for young families wanting to enjoy the shoreline.

Find adventure and explore the area from the waters. There are plenty of kayaking or canoeing tours along the coastline or down the many rivers that weave their way through the countryside, like the Mirna River, north of the villa. Suitable for all abilities, Mirna River boasts excellent scenery and ideal paddling conditions. The whole family can enjoy this activity and create memories that will last a lifetime.

Another site well worth a visit lies south of the villa, the city of Pula. With a long tradition of winemaking, fishing and shipbuilding, Pula is filled with Roman architecture and surrounded by a beautiful natural landscape. The Roman architecture includes the temple of Augustus Cathedral, the Roman Forum, City Hall and, impressively, an amphitheatre. The street beneath the terracotta rooftops is a maze of cafes, restaurants and shops waiting for you to discover. Due to its conflicting past, there are many forts in and around Pula for you to explore.

What we love

- The local area is teeming with things to do. We loved exploring Pore? and the history in the town centre.
- The pool and garden are great places to spend an afternoon relaxing.
- We loved using the outdoor grill for barbecues on sunny evenings. Eating dinner while watching the sunset was the best way to end the day.
- Each bedroom having its own ensuite was terrific. We all had our own space and privacy while being able to come together as a family.

What you should know...
